

School Sponsored Information Media

The Board recognizes the value of frequent written communications between the school and the community. Therefore, the Board directs the regular publication of materials which contain information necessary for the full understanding of the school program by parents and the public.

School principals shall be responsible for regular periodic publication of materials concerning their students and programs. To maximize the impact of the written word, however, the Board believes that every attempt should be made by the principal to consolidate as much communication as possible into the school's monthly newsletter.

The purpose of school/community communications tools shall be as follows:

1. To inform parents, students and the community in general of items pertinent to the school.
2. To comply with federal, state and/or local regulations.
3. To create an attitude of mutual cooperation and shared responsibility between the school and the community.

Adopted: 1971
Revised: April 2, 1979
Revised: January 2001